

MAX KRUSE THE SILVER UNICORN

A brilliant bestseller writer presents us a wonderful book about the power of wishing.

A wonderful gift for everyone who still has questions about life and an ideal book (for reading aloud) for young and old. By an international acclaimed author whose children's books were translated in many languages.

The life of the princess would be so wonderful if it weren't for her father, the Sorrowful King. Since the death of his beloved wife – and the foolish mistake he made on his daughter's first birthday – misery looms over the castle like a curse. And anyone who is sad loses his friends.

All hope of happiness seems to be lost, when one day the silver unicorn appears to accompany the princess and her only friend, the miller's son, on the long journey to the only person who can break the spell: the sorceress on the Island Over The Sea.

On their adventurous journey the three companions find the answers to the questions of life: Is it better to be big or small? What's wrong with someone who does not do what is possible? Why do wonder and amazement make you happy? How can the light be better than the heavy?

With great wisdom and in striking images, Max Kruse tells a story about the important and unimportant things in life, and how you can tell the difference between them.

▪ A timeless story full of worldly wisdom for readers of Antoine de Saint-Exupéry, Paulo Coelho, François Lelord and Sergio Bambaren.

Max Kruse is born 1921 at Bad Kösen, Saale, as son of the famous doll maker Käthe Kruse. He is known for his classic children's book series The Lion is out and Urmel from the Ice age (Film versions by the Augsburger Puppenkiste), Bearer of the German Federal Cross of Merit and of the Grand Prize 2000 of the German Academy of Children's and Youth Literature.
